

KLW Plastics Inc. Receives ISO 9001:2008 Certification

Certification for quality management includes all manufacturing facilities

Monroe, OH – October 1, 2014

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KLW Plastics Inc., a manufacturer of sustainable packaging solutions, has received ISO 9001:2008 certification. This certification confirms that KLW Plastics has met the requirements of the ISO standard for its Quality Management System across all of its manufacturing facilities.

To achieve certification as an ISO 9001:2008 certified company, KLW Plastics underwent a comprehensive review and evaluation of its quality management activities across all areas of the business. These activities included the development and documentation of a quality management system, internal audits, and the elimination of non-conformances through corrective actions.

Certification to the ISO 9001:2008 Standard demonstrates KLW Plastics' unwavering commitment to delivering consistent, high quality products and services to customers. "Achieving ISO certification is a testament to the dedication and hard work of the entire team at KLW Plastics," said Scott Dowrey, President and CEO. "All colleagues were committed to our success in certification and committed to a continuous improvement platform to ensure we deliver the highest quality product to our customers every time."
